

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Linda Cargill has written numerous thriller and supernatural novels. Among her titles are The Surfer and Pool Party published by Scholastic USA. She wrote Hang Loose for Harper Collins. Scholastic UK has published her series The Dark I and II. She has no fewer than forty-eight titles in print by the German publisher Cora Verlag. These include: Face in the Falls, The Raven, She Who Watches, Volcano, The Spiral Staircase, The Louvered Window, Note in a Bottle, One Perfect Rose, The Lighthouse, River of No Return, The Oldest House, and Murder in Yellowstone, among others. King Abdullah's Tomb is her third title by Cheops Books after To Follow the Goddess and The Black Stone.

Linda Cargill currently resides in Tucson, Arizona with her husband, Gary, who has a law practice there and who co-authored the novel King Abdullah's Tomb. He served as an historical consultant about World War I and American Isolationism, which is an underlying theme of this novel. He helped with plot twists and rewriting.

They live with their son, Kenny, a student at the University of Arizona. Also at the same address are her Labrador Retriever, Sabaka, and her two cats, Ramses and of course Spooky.
